

Index

- Abzug, Robert, 106, 319#212
Achenbach, Ernst, 225
Acheson, Dean, 87, 215
Act-of-state doctrine, 293#6, 347#53
Adams, John, 20, 23–24
Adenauer, Konrad, 210–11, 217, 225, 236, 237, 239, 251–52
Africa: Rwanda, 287
Aggression: criminalization of, 11, 70–71, 79, 83–89, 108–9; justification of charge, 194–95; key evidence of, 116–18; reluctance of courts to apply, 283; requiring actual combat?, 166
Aguinaldo, Emilio, 51, 57
Albright, Madeline, 288
Algonquins, 22
Allen, Nazareth, 41
Allison, Bill, 105
Allison, John, 253
Ambros, Otto, 187
Amchan, Morris, 334#140
American Indians: Algonquins, 22; Cherokees, 24–25; Iroquois, 22; John Adams on dominion over land, 23–24; legitimacy of war against colonists, 22; paying price of imperialism, 7–8; Sand Creek Massacre, 43–45; Sioux, 25–32; tactics of torture and terror, 27–28; war as central way of life, 21; war of revenge on white men, 45; as warrior societies waging total war, 20–21; Wounded Knee Massacre, 46
American Nuremberg trials: American retreat from, 224; anti-Semitic attack from Rankin, 150; assertions of legitimacy along with quick release of criminals, 210;

American Nuremberg trials (cont.)

assessment of fairness and leniency, 203, 209; Brandt (Medical) case, 153–54; civilians as defendants, 149–50, 156, 158–59, 160–63; Cold War causing change in prosecutory climate, 184–85; concentration camp administrators' trials, 155–56; conservative reading of law and narrowing of legal mandate, 170–71, 172; Continental versus American legal systems, 107, 343<sup>n</sup>9; Control Council Law No. 10 mandating, 148, 172, 176, 190, 195, 225; crimes against humanity charge against German nationals, dismissed, 176; criticisms from U.S. judges 172–75; criticisms from Kennan, 151–52; defenses offered, 156, 157, 178–79, 180, 184–85; distracted by Soviet takeover of Czechoslovakia and Berlin blockade, 167, 184; evidentiary base unprecedented, 164; Farben case, 159, 186, 222; Flick case, 2, 186, 222; guerrillas/partisans (franc tireurs) as war criminals, 171; High Command case, 159; Hostage case, 170; Justice case, 155–57; justifications and supporters, 147–48; Krupp case, 159, 186, 189–90, 222, 229; legacy of scientific standards for medical research on human subjects, 154; Milch case, 154–55; military defendants, 170; Ministries (Wilhelmstrasse) case, 15, 158–67, 179–201; overview, 14–15; Pohl case, 155; pressure to finish, 184; prosecution's need for legal innovation, 159; prosecution staffing, 148–49, 153, 157–58, 170, 172; reprisals defined broadly, 171; “retroactive law” defense, 96, 156, 176–77; “subversive diplomats” defense, 166; “superior orders” defense, 41, 154, 155, 195, 338<sup>n</sup>173; Taylor's statement of goal, 175–76; tension between prosecution and bench, 172–75; verdicts, dissenting opinions, and sentences, 157, 178, 188–90, 194–200, 211; Weizsäcker case, 15, 147, 160, 179–84, 195–99; see also Anti-Nuremberg efforts of West Germans; Charges; Defenses; Nuremberg trials; Sentence reductions

American political ideology: abrupt, contradictory shifts of 1950s, 18; conquest, credit, and debt, 23–24; egalitarianism versus imperialism, 6–9; failure to join in creation of international criminal court, 290; fear of Bolshevism after World War I, 10, 12, 78, 315<sup>n</sup>148, 343<sup>n</sup>12; impact of Kennan's “Long Telegram,” 343<sup>n</sup>8; justifying Philippine colonialism, 8, 51–52; Manifest Destiny, 8, 49–51, 57; Monroe Doctrine, 10, 78, 318<sup>n</sup>194&197; post–World War I interests, 10; Stimson Doctrine (nonrecognition of “illegitimate” governments), 11, 84–85; timidity in face of 1990s genocides, 287–89; war crimes as public relations problems, 289; see also American Indians; International law

American war crimes program: awkward questions raised by, 101; defendants, 113; problem of Continental versus American legal systems, 107; problem of definition of war crimes, 108–9; see also American Nuremberg trials; Nuremberg

- trials; Reeducation (denazification) and social reform
- American war policy: "civilized" versus "savage/barbarian" foes, 6–7, 19, 50; convergence of law and war, 52; early attempt to apply law, 35; legalist cast given by New York lawyers, 67–69, 148; Minnesota Indian war, 25–32; never recognizing legitimacy of American Indian resistance, 21–22; soldiers as ambassadors of democracy and Christianity, 53–54; strategic legalism as dominant ideology, 52–53; war with Mexico, 25; see also Civil War; Cold War; International law; Lieber Code; Philippines and American colonialism; War crimes standards; Warfare
- Anti-Bolshevism defense, 119, 184–85
- Anti-Nuremberg efforts of West Germans: Adenauer's government, 270–71; in Bundestag, 235–37, 242, 256–57; Essen Amnesty Committee, 225–26, 376*n*97; German church leaders, 368–69*n*24; German government, 236, 237; Heidelberg Juristenkreis plan, 225, 231, 235, 237, 238, 242, 279–81; nonrecognition of sentence validity, 17; pamphlets demanding reversal of death sentences, 230–31; refusal to believe facts of crimes, 244, 246; sentence reductions seen as cynical abandonment of failed policy, 233; State Department's public opinion surveys on, 228–30, 234, 241–42; strategic legalism, 224–25; trials as unjust, 229–30, 234; veteran organizations, 227, 240
- Anti-Semitism in criticisms of trials, 89, 150, 174, 341*n*200
- Appeals. See Sentence reductions
- Appleman, John, 133, 316*n*162, 347*n*53
- Arbitration, hope for, for conflict resolution, 48, 76
- Armenian genocide, 75, 314*n*135
- Asia: Cambodia, 286; Manchuria, 11, 84–85, 132, 139–40; Nanking, China, 139; see also Japan; Soviet Union
- Asquith, Herbert, 71
- Atlantic Charter, 104
- Atomic bomb, 193
- Auchincloss, John, 244–45, 247–48, 253
- Bach-Zelewski, Erich von dem, 117–18
- Baird, Jay, ed., 330*n*43
- Balangiga massacre and reprisal, 58–59
- Baldwin, Raymond, 205
- Balfour, Michael, 385*n*85, 402
- Balkan, Richard, 278–80
- Bataan Death March, 138–39
- Bates, John C., 40–41
- Becker, Helmut, 180
- Bell, John Franklin, 60, 61
- Benton, Willbourn, ed., 322*n*238, 365*n*286
- Benz, Wolfgang, 378*n*106
- Berger, Gottlob, 163, 185, 198–99, 221, 283
- Berlin blockade, 167, 184
- Best, Geoffrey, 7, 36, 312*n*115, 322*n*234, 326*n*2
- Beveridge, Albert, 57, 61–62
- Biberstein, Ernst, 281
- Biddle, Francis, 95, 111
- Bird, Kai, 376*n*97
- Bisbee, William, 62

- Bishop, John, 29
 Bismarck, Otto von, 316*n*162
 Black Elk, 46
 Blakney, Bruce, 133
 Bleucher, Franz, 207
 Blobel, Paul, 223
 Blume, Walter, 178
 Bohle, Ernst, 161
 Bokor, John, 346*n*36
 Bolshevism, fear of: after World War I, 10, 12, 78, 315*n*148, 343*n*12; as defense, 119, 184–85; Hitler's path followed by U.S., 226; see also Soviet Union
 Boltwood, Edwin, 56
 Bonn Agreements, restoring West German sovereignty, 237, 239, 256
 Borkin, Joseph, 14
 Bosch, William, 320*n*226
 Bosnia, 287
 Botzenhart-Viehe, Verena, 378*n*106
 Bower, Tom, 344*n*19, 369*n*28
 Bowie, Robert, 219
 Brand, James, 155, 157, 176–77
 Brandt, Karl, 153–54
 Brandt (Medical) case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 153–54
 Braune, Werner, 223
 Braun, Sismund von, 180
 Briand, Frank, 338*n*154
 Brogan, Hugh, 44–45
 Brown, Dee, 7, 29
 Brown, Preston, 67
 Bülow, Bernard von, 68
 Buruma, Ian, 358*n*188
 Buscher, Frank: able summary of occupation period history, 319*n*203; convicted prisoners as major obstacle to Adenauer's foreign policy goals, 211; failure of reeducation efforts, 238–40; on German military's attitude to EDC contribution, 379*n*114; on Germans' objections to trials, 342*n*1; on West Germans' self-view as victimized nation, 375*n*87; groundbreaking study of war crimes program, 16; on Heidelberg Juristenkreis, 377*n*99; on IMPAC Board sell-out, 387*n*89; on Malmédy trial's final report, 206; on proposed prisoner custody transfer to West Germany, 237; on resurgence of German nationalism, 376*n*96; on shortcomings of American system, 377*n*99; on Wennerstrum's criticisms of trials, 175; on West Germans' refusal to accept responsibility, 284, 378*n*106
 Bush, Jonathan, 289
 Buttenweiser, Benjamin, 147
 Byrnes, James, 109, 146
 Byroade, Henry, 219
 Cadman, Julian, 65
 Calleo, David, 312*n*119
 Cambodia, 286
 Caming, William, 184, 208, 364*n*283
 Case, Francis, 174, 206
 Cavell, Edith, 72
 Chamberlin, Stephen J., 168, 343*n*9
 Chang, Iris, 339*n*183
 Chanler, William, 323*n*248
 Charges, controversies over: aggression, 11, 70–71, 79, 83–89, 94, 96, 108–9, 110, 114, 129, 194–95, 283; bureaucratic crimes committed by criminal state, 93; “command responsibility,” 137, 336*n*143, 337*n*163; conspiracy to world domination, 93–94, 96, 110, 115, 129, 324*n*259; crimes against humanity, 112, 176; crimes against peace, 110; criminal accessory versus conspiracy, 94; ex post facto, 12, 14, 78, 96,

- 108–9, 283, 324<sup>n</sup>259, 337<sup>n</sup>154; in IMT Far East (Tokyo Trial), 131, 191; London Agreement on, 110, 191–93; rejection or avoidance of contentious issues, 203; retroactivity, 96, 156, 176–77; in Tokyo Trial defense, 337<sup>n</sup>154; traditional war crimes, 322<sup>n</sup>238; tu quoque arguments, 102, 124, 184, 187, 195, 327<sup>n</sup>3, 334<sup>n</sup>138
- Cherokees, 24–25
- China, rape of Nanking, 139
- Chivington, J. M., 43, 44
- Choate, Joseph, 9, 49, 68–69, 304<sup>n</sup>2, 309–10<sup>n</sup>96
- Chomsky, Carol, 7, 296<sup>n</sup>12, 297<sup>n</sup>29
- Christianity, armed violence and, 19, 295<sup>n</sup>2
- Christianson, William, 158, 207–8
- Civil War: intense fratricidal spirit and “preparedness for slaughter,” 37–38; military as instrument of democracy, 38; objective including unconditional surrender and overthrow of social structure, 38, 39; as preview of “total war,” 37, 42–43; as war against southern society, 38
- Clay, Lucius: belief in trials, 148; discomfort with direction of American policy, 167–68; as Military Governor of occupied Germany, 145; problems obtaining qualified jurists, 150; rebutting German bishops’ statement, 368–69<sup>n</sup>24; reconstruction program as “too vindictive,” 172; refusal to cave in to political pressure, 175; replaced by McCloy and U.S. High Commission for Germany, 210; review responsibility for sentences, 212, 215; secret cable leaked to media, 168–69; suggesting Nuremberg for site of trials, 108; on superior orders defense, 338<sup>n</sup>173; urging stand against Soviet threat, 184
- Clyde, R. S., 109
- Cold War: Berlin blockade, 167, 184; causing change in prosecutory climate, 184–85; coverup of Katyn Forest massacre, 104, 130; early expectations of, 339<sup>n</sup>183; Gehlen’s exaggerations of Soviet power and motives, 152–53, 168; German rearmament and key strategic role, 87, 211; German role: dispute over punitive peace versus reconciliation, 16–18, 87; impact of Kennan’s “Long Telegram,” 345<sup>n</sup>28; Korean War, 216–17; leaking of “secret cables” to manipulate public opinion, 169; NSC Directive 10/2 on political warfare, 169; proving weakness of international law, 286–87; recruitment of Nazi counterintelligence agents, 13, 152, 346<sup>n</sup>36; reinstatement of American draft, 168; U.S. following Hitler’s anti-Bolshevik path, 226; Western European Defense Force (EDF), 218; see also Soviet Union; West Germany’s sovereignty and rearmament for Cold War
- Coles, Michael, 385<sup>n</sup>55
- Colonialism: end of, versus Monroe Doctrine, 10, 78, 318<sup>n</sup>194&197; see also Philippines and American colonialism
- “Command responsibility” charge, 137, 336<sup>n</sup>143, 337<sup>n</sup>163
- Conant, James, 243, 247, 257
- Concentration camps: administrators’ trial, 155–56; comparison to Indian reservations or reconcentrado camps in Philippines, 11; Lippman’s decision not to write about atrocities, 321<sup>n</sup>229; medical experi-

- Concentration camps (cont.)
 ments on humans, 153–54; Nazi, 88, 104–7, 162; reconcentrado camps in Philippines, 11, 56; valuables confiscated at, 163
- Connell, Thomas, 58
- Conot, Robert, 322*n*234, 332*n*96, 345*n*27
- Conspiracy charge, 93–94, 96, 110, 115, 129, 324*n*259
- Control Council Law No. 10, mandating American Nuremberg courts, 148, 172, 176, 190, 195, 225
- Cornwell, John, 204, 358*n*188
- Counterintelligence agents, recruitment of former Nazis, 13, 152, 345–46*n*36
- Cowell, Alan, 385*n*85
- Crane, Conrad, 326*n*1
- Cravath, Paul, 315*n*144
- Creel, Robert, 278
- Crespi, Leo, 229
- Crimes. See Charges; War crimes standards; War crimes trials
- “Crimes against humanity” charge, 112, 176
- “Crimes against peace” charge, 110
- Criminal accessory charge, versus conspiracy, 94
- Cruscus, Benno, 82
- Custody of prisoners: British proposal for transfer, 236–37; at close of war, 108; face-saving proposals for, 275, 276; proposal for transfer to West German control, 235–36, 237
- Czechoslovakia, 167, 181, 183
- Dachau trials, 5
- Darré, Richard, 161–62, 199
- Darwin, Charles, 50, 305*n*15
- Davidson, Eugene, 13
- Davis, Calvin DeHormond, 310*n*98
- Dean, Patrick, 109
- Debevoise, Eli, 241
- Defendants (list of), 113
- Defenses: act-of-state doctrine, 293–94*n*6, 347*n*53; anti-Bolshevism, 119, 184–85; “only following orders,” 41; respondeat superior (“let the master answer, rather than the servant”), 347*n*53; “retroactive law,” 96, 156, 176–77; self-defense (Japanese) against aggression by Allied policies, 134; “subversive diplomats,” 166; “superior orders, only following orders,” 41, 154, 155, 195, 338*n*173; see also Ex post facto law defense
- DeForest, John, 37–38
- Deloria, Vine Jr., 24–25, 404
- Denazification. See Reeducation (denazification) and social reform
- Dietrich, Otto, 161, 186, 199
- Dietrich, Sepp, 95, 258–59, 260–65
- Dirlewanger, Oskar, 163
- Doenitz, Karl, 124, 125, 143
- Dole, William, 34
- Donnelly, Walter, 240, 241
- Donovan, William “Wild Bill,” 107, 329*n*38
- Dos Passos, John, 114
- Dower, John, 140, 191, 385*n*90
- Drinnon, Richard, 8, 66, 296*n*5
- Duality in America’s conduct of foreign affairs: acceptance of Khmer Rouge and Pol Pot in UN, 286; arising from hypocrisy of strategic legalism, 52–53; “civilized” versus “savage/barbarian” foes, 7, 19, 50, 65, 69; coverup of Katyn Forest massacre, 104, 130; end of colonialism versus Monroe Doctrine, 10, 78, 318*n*194&197; equity existing only among equals, 67; failure to join in creation of international

- criminal court, 288; frontier policy and western expansion, 23–25; hypocrisy, 6, 20, 287–89; in non-recognition policy, 85; paradox of democratic ideals versus suppression of Philippine independence, 51–54; paradox of egalitarianism versus suppression of Indian tribes, 24; paradox of liberty versus slavery, 6, 20, 24; personified by Wilson versus Lansing, 10, 76; policy disorientation as consequence of abandoning international law, 287
- Duality in war crimes/sentence policies: and Christianity's paradoxical relationship to armed violence, 19, 295<sup>n2</sup>; sentence reductions as indefensible, 262; two sets of rules, 19; West German rearmament with top generals in prison, 237
- Dubois, Josiah, 14
- Dulles, Allen, 152, 243
- Dulles, John Foster, 243–44, 245, 249, 250, 255
- East Germany, 211
- Ebert, Friedrich, 79
- Ehard, Hans, 323<sup>n242</sup>
- Eichhorn, Max, 105
- Eichmann, Adolf, 125–26
- Einsatzgruppen*, 116–17, 177–78, 215, 284–85
- Eisenhower, Dwight David, 88, 104–5, 172, 218, 242
- Elliott, Charles Burke, 54
- Ellis, Burton, 140, 142
- Erdmannsdorf, Otto von, 161
- Essen Amnesty Committee, 225–26, 377<sup>n99</sup>
- Etzold, Thomas H., et al., eds., 343<sup>n8</sup>, 373<sup>n55</sup>
- Europe: Bosnia, 289; Czechoslovakia, 167, 181, 183; East Germany, 211; Hague Conventions (1898), 47–49; Italy, 359<sup>n195</sup>; Poland, 11, 102–3, 105, 117, 126, 127, 160, 183; Prussia, 48; Serbia, 170; Thirty Years War, 5, 6, 39, 291–92<sup>n4</sup>; traditional warfare, 19; Turkey's genocide of Armenians, 75, 314<sup>n135</sup>; see also Asia; Germany; West Germany; World War I; World War II
- European Command War Crimes Modification Board, 223–24
- Everett, John, 144
- Everett, Wallace Jr., 142
- Ex post facto* law defense: in American Nuremberg tribunal, 157; criticism by experts, 96, 108–9, 324<sup>n259</sup>; as “international lynch law,” 78; as legal innovation, required for Nuremberg charges, 12, 14; nulla poena sine lege argument, 113; reluctance of courts to apply, 283
- Farben case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 159, 186, 222
- Ferencz, Ben, 177
- Fetterman, William, 45
- Final Solution, 118, 123, 126, 182
- Fisher, John, 304<sup>n2</sup>
- Fiske, John, 49–51
- Flick case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 186, 222
- Flick, Friedrich, 147
- Foner, Eric, 301<sup>n113</sup>
- Forsythe, James, 46
- Foucault, Michel, 34
- Fowell, William, 21, 28
- François-Poncet, André, 251
- Freeman, Alwyn, 313<sup>n120</sup>
- Freud, Sigmund, 310<sup>n104</sup>
- Friedman, Leon, ed., 300<sup>n100</sup>

- Friedrich, Jörg: America as ally and occupier, 240–41; on bogus Soviet accusations, 126; on brutal occupation and reprisal expected by Germans, 111; comprehensive account of trial, 14; on denazification as form of political purge, 146; on Germans ignoring evidence, insisting process flawed, 131, 209; irony of criminals' dislike of their own methods, 284; participation in TV documentary, 17; on public uproar over hangings, 234; on response of German public to Nuremberg verdicts, 130; trials flawed and tainted by Soviet inclusion, 13; unconvinced by von Weizsäcker's claims of innocence, 204
- Fryatt, Charles, 73
- Fuller, J.F.C.: armies of democracies as armed tribal hordes, 38; democracies profoundly changing warfare, 69–70; on democratic people's revolutionary power to sue for peace, 301*n*107; on JCS 1067 as Draconian, 342*n*1; monarchs warring for limited aims, 294*n*6; on peace movement of WWI, 317*n*186; on role of propaganda in WWI, 312*n*113; on Sherman's maraudings reminiscent of Thirty Years War, 39; on Soviet military inferiority, 353–54*n*128; on Thirty Years War, 291*n*4
- Funk, Walter, 128, 162
- Fussell, Paul, 106–7
- Galbraith, John Kenneth, 353*n*128
- Galbraith, Thomas, 26, 31
- Gaus, Friedrich, 127, 149
- Gehlen, Reinhard, 152–53, 168
- Genet (Janet Flanner), 335*n*40
- Germany (pre-1949): Allied plans for occupation and punishment, 87; early recognition of strategic role in Cold War Europe, 87; fear of Bolshevism after World War I, 119, 343*n*12; Hitler's aggression in war-weary Europe, 11; Hitler's rise, 85; Hitler-Stalin Pact, 126–27; opinion polls in 1946 revealing "proceedings as fair," 336*n*142; rejecting American push for new international code, 9; rejecting denazification program, 146; rejecting international court, compulsory jurisdiction, opposing "neutral" arbitration of disputes, 48–49, 68, 69, 310*n*98; rejecting legality of Nuremberg trials and guilt of criminals, 113, 115, 130, 209–10; rejecting "war guilt" and efforts to try Kaiser, 79, 83, 315–16*n*155, 342*n*1; resentment of war crimes program, 210; welcoming American criticisms of American Nuremberg tribunal, 174, 175, 201; see also West Germany
- Gernert, Paul, 252
- Gilbert, Gustav, 120, 332*n*81
- Godfrey ("he who kills many"), 32, 299*n*72
- Goebbels, Josef, 90
- Goering, Hermann, 116, 118, 121–24, 128, 130, 149
- Gold, Hal, 339–40*n*185, 405
- Golyakov, I. T., 111
- Gorschenin, K. P., 111
- Graff, Henry, ed., 308*n*69
- Grimm, Friedrich, 225
- Gros, André, 107, 108–9
- Grose, Peter, 146–47
- Grotius, Hugo, 19, 69, 169, 292*n*4
- Guerrilla warfare: erasure of line between soldier and civilian,

- 54–55, 289; partisans (franc tireurs) as war criminals, 171
- Hacha, Emil, 165–66, 181
- Haensel, Carl, 201, 331<sup>n</sup>60
- Hafenstangel, Putzi, 165
- Hagan, Richard, 255, 257, 280
- Hagedorn, Hermann, 46
- Hague Conferences (1898 and 1907) and Agreement, 47–49, 68–70, 347<sup>n</sup>47
- Halleck, Henry, 36
- Hallett, Jack, 106
- Hallock, Leroy, 61
- Hammond, George, 22–23
- Handy, Thomas, 212, 223
- Hansen, Gottfried, 240
- Harris, Arthur “Bomber,” 102
- Harris, Sheldon, 339<sup>n</sup>184
- Hart, B. H. Liddell, 101
- Hartigan, Richard, ed., 300<sup>n</sup>100
- Heath, John, 41
- Hebert, Paul, 188–90
- Heidelberg Juristenkreis*, 225, 231, 235, 237, 239, 242, 279–80
- Heilbrunn, Jacob, 9, 376–77<sup>n</sup>97
- Helms, Jesse, 288
- Herf, Jeffrey, 285
- Hess, Rudolf, 16, 125–26
- Heydrich, Reinhard, 119
- Heye, Admiral, 256
- Heynen, Karl, 81
- High Command case at American Nuremberg trials, 159
- Hillgruber, Andreas, 70, 72, 311<sup>n</sup>107, 313<sup>n</sup>117
- Himmler, Heinrich, 105, 163
- Hirohito, Emperor of Japan, 15, 131, 191
- Hiscocks, Richard, 370<sup>n</sup>30, 382<sup>n</sup>21
- Hitler, Adolf, 85
- Hoar, George, 61
- Hodgson, Godfrey, 9, 67, 84, 85, 411
- Hoffman, Stanley, 304<sup>n</sup>6, 314<sup>n</sup>137
- Hollweg, Bethman, 70
- Homma, Masaharu, trial of, 135, 138–39, 337<sup>n</sup>163
- Hood, John Bell, 38
- Hoopes, Townsend, 384<sup>n</sup>55
- Hornbostel, Theodore, 166, 167
- Hossbach, Friedrich, 116
- Hostage case at American Nuremberg trials, 169–70
- House, Edward, 76
- Howard, Michael, 19, 169, 292–93<sup>n</sup>4, 294<sup>n</sup>1, 295<sup>n</sup>3, 310<sup>n</sup>104, 407, 418
- Hull, William, 304<sup>n</sup>4, 305<sup>n</sup>6, 310<sup>n</sup>101
- Humphrey, Hubert, 264
- Ignatieff, Michael, 295<sup>n</sup>1&3
- Imperialism as crime, 192–93
- IMT. See International Military Tribunal (IMT)
- IMT/Far East. See International Military Tribunal for Far East (Tokyo Trial)
- Intelligence agents, recruitment of former Nazis, 13, 152, 345<sup>n</sup>36
- Interim Mixed Parole and Clemency Board (IMPAC), 251
- International law: America advocating radical new international codes, 9, 47, 48; and Control Council Law No. 10, 148, 172, 176, 190, 195, 225; as discriminatory and subjective, 79; failures of 1990s, 286, 287, 288, 289; Hague Conventions (1898 and 1907), 47–49, 68–70, 347<sup>n</sup>47; imperialism as real crime, 192–93; lack of world community, 336<sup>n</sup>145; natural law as Western notion, 336<sup>n</sup>145, 361–62<sup>n</sup>235; neutrality and international courts rejected by Germany, 9; political justice as tenuous, tending to farce, 334<sup>n</sup>139;

International law (cont.)

- Reagan administration withdrawal, 286; Rome Conference of 1998, 288; rule of law as "miraculous panacea," 334*n*139; vulnerability to military aggression, 70; weakness of U.S. commitment proved by Cold War, 286–87; Wilson's League of Nations, 75–76; see also War crimes standards
- International Military Tribunal for Far East (Tokyo Trial): autocratic presiding judge, 133; charges, 191; as closest to military custom, 340*n*187; complicated indictments, 131, 133; composition of tribunal, 132–33; defendants not including Emperor Hirohito, 132, 191; defense attacking court's legitimacy, 134, 336*n*143; defense of self-defense against aggression by Allied policies, 134; defense rejecting aggression charge, 134; immunity to Japanese biological warfare unit, 132; Kennan's criticism, 169, 190–91; lack of definition of "aggression," 133; lack of hard evidence, 133; overview, 15–16; problem of "negative criminality," 133; real crime as imperialism, 192–93; suggestion of amnesty for prisoners, 252, 253, 254, 257, 273–74; verdicts, sentences, and dissenting opinions, 191–93
- International Military Tribunal (IMT): adamant rejection of sovereignty, 115–16; aggression, key evidence of, 116–18; assessment, 130–31; case for French, 118–19; conservative rulings, 129; defense challenging legality of, 113; Doenitz defense, 124–25, 144; Goering defense, 121–24; Hoess defense, 125–26; Kennan's criticism of hypocrisy, 151; as legitimate forum unprecedented in modern history, 130; opening of, 114; overview, 13–14; prosecution case, 115–21; Operation Barbarossa, 119–20, 121; Sonderkommandos, 120; sentences for convicted war criminals, 129–30; Soviet attempt to blame Germans for Katyn Forest massacre, 126; Speer defense, 127–28
- Irons, Peter, 381*n*133
- Iroquois, 22
- Isaacson, Walter, 373*n*56
- Isemberg, Helene von, 226
- Ishii, Shiro, 140
- Italy, 359*n*95
- Jackson, Andrew, 25
- Jackson, Robert: advising against trials, 14; comment on Nazis' organizational ability, 159; confronting Goering, 123–24; dealing with problem of Continental versus American legal systems, 107; deep reservations on Soviet participation, 108; hope for empirical record of Nazi crimes, 145–46; recommendation for additional, U.S. trials, 147–48; opening of International Military Tribunal (IMT), 114; as "romantic of the law," 98–99
- Janssen, Karl-Heinz, 321*n*226
- Japan: amnesty for war criminals, 252, 253, 254, 257, 273–74, 280, 282; Bataan Death March, 138–39; biological warfare, medical experiments Unit 731 in Manchuria, 132, 139–40; Emperor Hirohito not indicted for war crimes, 16, 191; invasion of

- Manchuria, 84–85; rape of Manila, 135; rape of Nanking, 139; slaughter of civilians for sport, 139; see also International Military Tribunal for Far East (Tokyo Trial)
- JCS (Joint Chiefs of Staff Directive) 1067: retaining punitive elements of Morgenthau Plan, 145, 284
- Jefferson, Thomas, 22, 23
- “Jekyll & Hyde” defense, 180, 196
- Jervis, Robert, 6, 372*n*53
- Jessup, Phillip, 9, 309*n*6
- Jews: admission of slaughter of, 118; anti-Semitism in criticisms of trials, 89, 150, 174, 341*n*200; evictions from Berlin, 128; expropriation of assets of, 162; extermination in Vilna, 120; Final Solution, 118, 123, 126, 182; German, Nazi persecution of, as not war crime, 176–77; Goering on alleged influence in prewar Germany, 122–23; Kempner, 149, 164, 173, 222, 285; Lippman, silence of, 321*n*229; Morgenthau, 12, 87, 88, 150–51; Nazi treatment of, 12; perception of vengeance by, 12, 146, 150, 172; Perl, 140–41, 341*n*200; Roman, fate of, 204–5; targeted by Einsatzgruppen, 116–17; in Warsaw uprising, 117
- Justice case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 155–57
- Kaiser, David: on Armenian genocide, 75; on “deportation” as execution, 358*n*186; on Hitler’s Four-Year Plan for economic independence for Germany, 350–51*n*95; on “people’s wars” of twentieth century, 311*n*105; on propaganda in WWI, 312*n*113; on revolutionary political ideologies and temptations to war, 300*n*106; on Thirty Years War and power of aristocracies, 291–92*n*4; on unprecedented aims of Cold War protagonists, 369*n*28
- Karadzic, Radovan, 288
- Karski, Jan, 321*n*229
- Katyn Forest massacre, 103–4, 126, 130
- Kauffmann, Kurt, 125
- Keegan, John, 21, 49, 311*n*104, 312*n*115, 314*n*135
- Keenan, Joe, 132
- Kefauver, Estes, 260–61
- Kehrl, Hans, 162, 199
- Keitel, Wilhelm, 120–21
- Kellog, Abner, 41
- Kellogg-Briand Pact (Pact of Paris): high aims and lack of enforcement mechanism, 83, 84; and renouncing war as instrument of national policy, 83; violations of, in 1930s, 83, 84
- Kempner, Robert, 149, 164, 173, 222, 285, 343*n*9
- Kennan, George: on American interest in peace movement, 318*n*186; criticism of Soviet participation in trial, 327*n*4; dismissing Czar’s humanitarian claims, 303*n*2; on hypocrisy in American policy, 288; impact of “Long Telegram” on postwar foreign policy, 345*n*28; Nazi tactics consistent with customs of European warfare, 151–52; pushing for normalization of relations with Japan, 340*n*185; reeducation efforts as failure, 169; on significance of Hague Conventions, 304*n*3; on sovereignty, 293*n*5; Tokyo trials “profoundly misconceived,” 190–91
- Kentaro, Awaya, 340*n*185
- Keppler, Wilhelm, 160, 197, 199

- Kessel, Albrecht von, 180, 256
 Kesselring, Albert, 227
 Kipling, Rudyard, 304<sup>n2</sup>
 Kirchheimer, Otto, 35–36, 323<sup>n248</sup>, 327<sup>n3</sup>, 334<sup>n139</sup>
 Kirkpatrick, Ivonne, 236
 Kitchener, Horatio Herbert, 52
 Kitchen, Martin, 311<sup>n106</sup>
 Klemperer, Klemens von, 181, 204
 Klingelhofer, Waldemar, 177
 Kloft, Michael, 17, 331<sup>n67</sup>
 Knieriem, August von, 201, 368<sup>n22</sup>
 Knutson, Harold, 174, 206
 Kobulov, B. Z., 112
 Koerner, Paul, 162, 197
 Koop, Wyn, 43
 Kordt, Theo, 208, 213
 Korean War, 217–18
 Koselleck, Reinhard, 294<sup>n6</sup>
 Kranzbühler, Otto: on day of sentencing, 129; defense challenges, 113; defense of Doenitz, 124; on emotionality of Jackson, 115; on Kempner, 344<sup>n21</sup>; as member of Heidelberg Juristenkreis, 225; as Nuremberg's most successful defense attorney, 17; plan to reject legal validity of trials, 235;
     on presence of Russians,
     335<sup>n138</sup>; urging nonrecognition of trials by Adenauer's West German government-to-be, 239;
     on violence and injustice as inevitable in revolutions,
     331<sup>n60</sup>
 Krauch, Carl, 186
 Krieger, Justina, 27–28
 Krock, Arthur, 234
 Krosigk, Schwerin von, 162, 199
 Krupp, Alfried, 147
 Krupp case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 159, 186, 189–90, 221–22, 229
 Kumm, Otto, 227
 Kuntze, Wilhelm, 170
Laconia affair, 125
 Lacquer, Walter, 327<sup>n5</sup>
 Lael, Richard, 338<sup>n159&176</sup>, 339<sup>n179</sup>
 Lafeber, Walter, 372<sup>n53</sup>
 LaFollette, Charles, 345<sup>n22</sup>
 Lamb, Knox, 260
 Lammers, Hans, 147, 161, 185, 197,
     198–99, 285
 Langer, William, 174, 206, 212, 219
 Lansing, Robert, 10, 76, 77, 243
 Lawton, Henry, 54
 League of Nations, 10, 75–76
 Legal systems: natural law as Western notion, 336<sup>n145</sup>, 361–62<sup>n235</sup>; problem of Continental versus American, 107; see also International law
 Leigh, Benjamin, 24
 Leipzig trials, 10, 80–83
 LeMay, Curtis, 101–2
 Lembrich, Greg, 349<sup>n79</sup>
 Lepore, Jill, 296<sup>n14</sup>
 Levie, Howard, 295<sup>n1</sup>, 322<sup>n238</sup>, 334<sup>n140</sup>, 338<sup>n173</sup>, 340<sup>n185</sup>, 349<sup>n79</sup>
 Lewis, Geoffrey, 234, 255
 Lieber Code: adopted by European nations, 42; “barbaric” versus “civilized” practices, 37; codifying
     Western military customs, 36; as first established formal guidelines, 36; foundation for treaty law on rules of war, 42; justifying reprisals in Philippine war, 60, 61, 63, 64;
     retaliation doctrine, 37
 Lieber, Francis, 36–37
 Lincoln, Abraham, 29, 33, 34, 35, 38,
     299<sup>n84</sup>
 Lindqvist, Sven, 7, 11, 290, 305<sup>n15</sup>,
     328<sup>n6</sup>, 409
 Lippman, Walter, 321<sup>n229</sup>

- Lipps, Herbert, 156
 List, Wilhelm, 170
 Little Crow, 25–27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 35, 298<sup>n</sup>63
 Lodge, Henry Cabot, 61
 London Agreement, 110, 112, 191
 Longstreet, Stephen, 21
 Luban, David, 92, 110, 129, 363<sup>n</sup>240
 Luders, Michael, 357<sup>n</sup>180, 365<sup>n</sup>2
 Lukas, Richard, 328<sup>n</sup>11
 Lukban, Vicente, 58
- MacArthur, Arthur, 56, 61, 62, 339<sup>n</sup>174
 MacArthur, Douglas, 131, 132, 135, 136, 140, 339<sup>n</sup>165
 McAuliffe, Anthony, 259
 McCaan, Martin, 17
 McCarthy, Joseph, 205–6
 McCloy, John: accepting failure to placate German population, 231; caught in public relations cross-fire, 224; cautions on appointments to review board, 215; defense of clemency, 233; favoring aggression charge, 94; inheriting death sentences as High Commissioner, 212; on need for West Germany in Cold War, 217; outmaneuvering opponents of Nuremberg trials, 92; request of Adenauer for proposals on custody, 237; as scapegoat for sentence reductions, 17; threats to self and family, 219; urging British to “move forward” with international law, 98
 McDougall, Walter, 20
 Machiavelli, Niccolo, 292<sup>n</sup>4
 McPherson, James, 42, 300<sup>n</sup>103, 302<sup>n</sup>118
 Madison, James, 24
 Maercer, Fred, 105
- Magee, Warren, 180
 Maguire, Robert: arguing against punishment, 208–9; assignment to American Nuremberg tribunal, 157–58; background, 2–3, 157; on contradictions of National Socialism, 165; decision to run for Oregon Supreme Court, 208; on Hornbostel testimony, 166; as judge in Weizsäcker case, 15; opinion salvaging reputation of tribunal, 203; on quality of evidence, 164; on reaction to former bodyguard of Hitler, 165; reversing position on Weizsäcker verdict, 207–8; on slow progress of trials, 190
 Mahan, Alfred Thayer, 51, 305<sup>n</sup>18
 Malmedy Massacre case, 15, 140–44, 204–5, 207, 223–24, 258–59, 260–65
 Manchester, William, 14, 338<sup>n</sup>174, 373<sup>n</sup>56, 375<sup>n</sup>82
 Manchuria, 11, 84–85, 132, 139–40
 Manifest Destiny, 8, 49–51, 57; see also American Indians
 Mann, Michael, 292<sup>n</sup>4
 Mann, Thomas, 145
 Marchetti, Victor, 168
 Marks, Sally, 314<sup>n</sup>137
 Marrus, Michael, 315<sup>n</sup>141
 Marshall, John, 24–25
 Marsh, John, 28
 Maser, Werner, 13
 Mather, Cotton, 21
 Mayer, Arno, 310<sup>n</sup>104
 Media: airings of criticisms of American Nuremberg tribunal, 173–74; leaks to, 168–69; Lippman’s decision not to write about concentration camp atrocities, 321<sup>n</sup>229
 Medical case at American Nuremberg trials, 153–54

- Medical experiments on human subjects: in Japanese camps in Manchuria, 132, 139–40; in Nazi concentration camps, 153–54
- Meinecke, Friedrich, 145
- Meissner, Otto, 162
- Mende, Eric, 256, 258
- Menthon, François de, 118–19
- Merchant, Livingston, 262–64
- Merkatz, Hans Joachim von, 256
- Mexico, 25
- Mickelwait, Claude, 142, 268
- Middlehauve, Friedrich, 252
- Milch case at American Nuremberg trials, 154–55
- Milch, Erhard, 154–55
- Milde, Harald, 379*n*114
- Military officers' concerns over rejection of superior orders defense, 144, 338*n*173
- Milkas, Wilhelm, 166, 167
- Miller, Stuart Creighton, 59, 308*n*68, 414
- Millier, Herbert, 28
- Minear, Richard H., 336*n*143, 361*n*234
- Ministries (Wilhelmstrasse) case at American Nuremberg tribunal, 15, 158–67, 179–201
- Minnesota Indian War, 25–32
- Mixed Clemency Board, 239, 242, 247, 250, 260, 280–81
- Monroe Doctrine, 10, 78, 318*n*194&197
- Montgomery, John, 342*n*1
- Moran, Fredrick, 216, 375*n*64
- Morgan, Edmund, 20, 96
- Morgenthau, Henry: advocating punitive peace after World War II, 12, 87; clash with Stimson over fate of Germany, 87–99; on rule of law, 334*n*139; speaking out against Armenian genocide by Turks, 75
- Morgenthau Plan: punitive elements retained in JCS 1067, 145, 284; residual effect of, 343*n*9; seen as “Judaic revenge” by anti-Semitic opposition, 88, 150–51
- Morris, James, 188
- Moscow Declaration, 86–87, 110
- Moyland, Steengracht von, 161, 199
- Moynihan, Daniel Patrick, 67, 287, 326*n*270
- Müller, Emil, 81
- Müller, Ingo, 348*n*61
- Murphy, Robert, 108
- Musmanno, Michael, 215
- Myrick, Andrew, 26, 27, 31
- Natural law, as Western notion, 336*n*145, 361–62*n*235
- Naumann, Erich, 223
- Nicholas II, Czar of Russia, 47
- Nichols, George, 38
- Nikitchenko, I. T., 107
- Nimitz, Chester, 124–25
- NSC Directive 10/2 on political warfare, 169
- Nuremberg trials: myth of harsh victor's justice, 18, 283; myth of redemptive trial, 18, 283; overview, 6, 13–14, 15; see also American Nuremberg trials; Anti-Nuremberg efforts of West Germans; Charges; Defenses; International Military Tribunal (IMT); Reeducation (denazification) and social reform
- Nuremberg trials, background: Bernays plan as broad-reaching, innovative, and revolutionary, 92, 93–94, 95, 96; born of bureaucratic struggle, 87–90; choice of Nuremberg as site, 108; custody of major war criminals, 108; European allies' skepticism, 12; Ger-

- man population's rejection of legality of trials, 113, 115, 130;
 London Agreement on participation and charges, 110, 112, 191;
 preponderance of "Harvard law school mafia," 344<sup>n</sup>19; problem of punitive policy and West German rearmament, 15; pros and cons of required legal innovation, 12, 14;
 Soviet participation as problematic, 102-4, 107-8; see also Charges Nuremberg trials, history's assessment: credibility problems exacerbated by American leniency, 284-86; failure of reeducation
 effort, 284, 285; as fair and lenient,
 203, 209, 283; as flawed but sound, 13; legacy of sensible military and political standards, 284; revolutionary implications, 331<sup>n</sup>60; tainted by inclusion of Soviets, 13; trials creating martyrs, 91, 144;
 uncertain accountability, 289
- Oeschey, Rudolf, 156
 Ohlendorf, Otto, 116, 177, 178, 223,
 234
 O'Malley, Owen, 104
 Operation Barbarossa, 119-20, 121,
 341<sup>n</sup>193
 Oshinsky, David, 366<sup>n</sup>6
 Ott, Adolf, 281
- Pal, Radhabinod, 16, 192-93
 Paterson, Thomas, et al., eds., 61,
 305<sup>n</sup>18
 Patzig, Helmut, 73, 74, 80, 81
 Paul, Allen, 103, 327<sup>n</sup>5&6
 Peck, David, 217
 Peck Panel (Advisory Board on Clemency), 212-13, 214-15, 216,
 218, 231-32
 Peiper, Joachim, 95, 140, 141, 142-44,
 223, 263, 266-67, 268-69,
 341<sup>n</sup>200
 Perl, William, 140-41, 341<sup>n</sup>200, 343<sup>n</sup>9
 Phenix, Spencer, 18, 273, 275, 276-78,
 279, 280, 281, 282
 Philippines and American colonialism: American justifications, 8,
 51-54, 61; Balangiga massacre and reprisals, 58-59; brutality denied and justified, 64-66; censorship of journalists' reports,
 56-57; guerrilla warfare tactics and erasure of line between soldier and civilian, 54-55; kill ratio, 55-56, 61-62, 67; Lieber Code
 justifying reprisals, 60, 61, 63, 64;
 outrage at home against, 57,
 60-61; past authorizations of terrorism revealed, 66; public trials and post-trial clemency for Preston Brown and Bissell Thomas,
 67; Senate Committee hearings,
 61-62; trial and symbolic chas-
 tisement of General Jacob Smith,
 63-65, 66-67
 Philippines in WWII, 135
 Piccigallo, Philip, 337<sup>n</sup>149, 345<sup>n</sup>27, 412
 Pleiger, Paul, 162
 Plitt, Edwin, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264,
 266, 269
 Pohl case at American Nuremberg
 trial, 155
 Pohl, Elonora, 233
 Pohl, Oswald, 155, 223, 233
 Pokrovsky, Yuri, 118
 Poland, 11, 102-4, 105, 117, 126, 127,
 160, 183
 Pol Pot, 286, 288
 Pope, John, 30, 32
 Pope, the, 182, 358<sup>n</sup>88
 Powers, Leon, 15, 158, 177, 197-98,
 199, 200, 201

- POWs (prisoners of war), mistreatment of: American, 11–12; captured German camp guards, 105–7; comparison of treatment by Japanese, Germans, and Italians, 139; Filipinos and Americans on Bataan Death March, 138–39; Filipinos in reconcentrado camps, 11, 56; medical experiments on, 139–40; prohibited by Hague Agreement, 347*n*47; Russian, 118, 332*n*81; as slave labor, 128, 187, 189, 283
- Primeaux, Bob, 297*n*29, 303*n*148
- Pritchard, R. John, et al., eds., 362*n*239
- Propaganda, 70–71, 91, 312*n*113
- Prussia, 48
- Puhl, Emil, 162–63, 199
- Radlova, Milada, 165–66
- Ramdohr, Max, 82
- Ramsey, Alexander, 29, 32–33
- Rankin, John J., 150, 206
- Rasche, Karl, 162, 186
- Raymond, Jack, 221, 364*n*279
- Raymond, John: against amnesty, reaffirming original decisions, 221; agreement to impartial board, with belief that death sentences would stand, 214; congratulations to Phenix, 282; dissatisfaction with parole and clemency as “device,” 244; emphasizing independence of Mixed Board members, 261; feeling some review decisions excessively lenient, 218; on handling of Peiper release, 266, 267; performing early sentence reviews for Clay, 212; warning against reopening cases during review, 215, 246; warning of serious political problem in West Germany, 247–49
- Reeducation (denazification) and social reform: advocated by some Germans, 145; American commitment to, 13, 90; comparison to post–Civil War Reconstruction, 13; compilation of record of Nazi atrocities as part of, 147; denazification program as victor’s justice, 146–47; as erroneous “therapeutic legalism,” 13; excesses creating resentment, 342*n*1; failure to recognize “continuity of error” between WWI and WWII, 321*n*226; German debates over sentence validity as evidence of failure, 238–39; hope for, in Bernays Plan, 93; hope for, in planning of trials, 110–11; Kennan’s argument of failure, 169; as naive and erroneous, 131; quiet wind-down of denazification trials, 147; State Department’s objections to, 151–52; trials as catharsis, 91; West Germans rejecting, 231
- Reel, Frank, 135, 136, 137
- Reese, Mary Ellen, 152–53
- Reitlinger, Gerald, 164, 352*n*103&105
- Remer, Ernst Otto, 228
- Rendulic, Lothar, 170
- Reprisals: for Balangiga massacre, 58–59; defined broadly by American Nuremberg trial, 171; fear of, and failure to prosecute war crimes, 71; and Native Americans, 27–28, 43–45; in Philippine war, 60, 61, 63, 64; proportional, 170; submarine warfare, 72–74, 124–25
- Resistance to Nazis: as defined by Weizsäcker defense, 180–89; as exemplified by Hornbostel and Milkas, 166–67
- “Retroactive law” defense (nullum

- crimen sine lege*, no crime without prior law), 96, 156, 176–77
- Ribbentrop, Joachim von, 126
- Riddleberger, James, 242, 249–50
- Riefenstahl, Leni, 116
- Riggs, Stephen, 32, 34
- Ritter, Karl, 161
- Rockler, Walter, 177
- Rockwell, Walter, 212
- Röling, Bernard V.A., 133, 191–92, 340*n*185
- Rome Conference of 1998, 288
- Roosevelt, Eleanor, 231
- Roosevelt, Franklin Delano, 87, 97, 319*n*202, 320*n*205&220
- Roosevelt, Theodore: approving sternest measures of retaliation in Philippines, 65; call for second Hague conference, 68; dismissing calls for Philippine independence, 8, 51, 57; negotiating end to Russo-Japanese War, 309*n*95; white supremacist views, 46
- Root, Elihu: casting soldiers as ambassadors of democracy and Christianity, 53–54; forbidding use of torture in Philippines, 62; on Germany as “disturber of peace,” 69; justifying Manifest Destiny, 8; rejecting calls for Philippine independence, 53; strategic legalist separation of law from morality, 52; supporting expansion of international law at Hague, 68; using strategic legalism to reduce lenient sentences, 9
- Roper, Hugh Trevor, 152
- Rositzke, Harry, 152
- Rossler, Fritz, 228
- Royster, Charles, 300*n*104, 301*n*107
- Rudenko, Roman A., 119, 126
- Russia: American fear of Bolshevism after World War I, 10, 12, 78, 315*n*148; proposing limitations of armaments, 47; see also Soviet Union
- Rwanda, 287
- St. James Declaration, 86
- Sand Creek Massacre, 43–45
- Sanders, Murray, 340*n*185
- Satterlee, Marion, 28, 297*n*29
- Schacht, Hjalmar, 186
- Schallermai, Georg, 223
- Scheffer, David, 288
- Schellenberg, Walter, 163, 164, 198
- Schmid, Carlo, 213, 219, 234
- Schmidt, Hans, 223
- Schmitt, Carl, 85, 179
- Schmitt, Hans, ed., 343*n*8
- Schmitz, Hermann, 186
- Schnitzler, Georg von, 186
- Schubert, Heinz Hermann, 224
- Schwabe, Karl, 314*n*136, 315*n*148
- Schwandt, Mary, 28
- Schwartz, Thomas, 174–75, 369*n*27, 377*n*99, 378*n*106
- Scott, James Brown, 10
- Seidl, Alfred, 126, 185, 226–27, 368*n*12
- Sentence reductions: as American repudiation, retreat from, cynical abandonment of Nuremberg, policy and principle, 16–18, 220, 224, 233, 253–54; amnesty proposals, 256, 259–60; appeals for commutation of death sentences, 212–15; appeals from West German church leaders, 213; appeals on behalf of Weizsäcker, 213–14; attacked from all sides, 215, 231–35; board for American Nuremberg trial verdicts, 216; board for Dachau and Army verdicts, 216; board for parole, suggestion of interim, 248, 249;

Sentence reductions (cont.)

board, Peck Panel (Advisory Board on Clemency), 212–13, 214–15, 216, 218, 231–32; confiscations abrogated, 222; criminals remaining in custody as of 1/31/55, 270 (table); custody proposals, 275, 276; due to “rehabilitation,” 278; early reviews on ad hoc basis, 212; infuriating American veterans, 261; equalizing sentence discrepancies between tribunals, 216; European Command War Crimes Modification Board, 223–24; as “excessive,” 218–19; fear of challenges to trials’ legitimacy, 215–16; Interim Mixed Parole and Clemency Board (IMPAC), 251; for Japanese prisoners, 252, 253, 254, 257, 273–74, 280, 282; leniency, releases, and commutations, 9, 18, 210, 221–24; McCloy as scapegoat for, 17; Malmedy Massacre case, 223–24, 258–60, 260–65; Mixed Clemency Board created by Bonn Agreements, 239, 242, 247, 250, 260, 280–81; need for “reconciliation” of West Germans, 16, 217–18; parole/clemency pro-con debates, 242–51; parole decisions as controversial, 260–71; parole for Peiper, 263, 266–67, 268–70; parole of (British) Werl Prison prisoners, 236–37; parole releases continuing steadily in early 1950s, 242; paroles as abandonment of and affront to Nuremberg, 253–54; parole standards loosened, 251, 255, 258; paroles with no publicity, 252, 255; parole systems compared and modifications recommended by

Phenix, 277–78; Phenix as “fixer,” 273; process favoring war criminals, 219, 232; reduced to time served, 281–82; vindicating Nazi apologists, 223; warnings against political solution, 248, 253; see also Strategic legalism

Sentences: American Nuremberg trials, 157, 178, 188–90, 194–200; death sentences, some carried out, 212, 234; IMT, 129–30; IMT for Far East, 139; leniency of, 283; light, for American officers in Philippines, 9; Malmedy Massacre, 144, 223–24

Serbia, 170

Shake, Morris, 188

Shaplen, Robert, 138

Shawcross, Hartley, 115–16, 232

Sherman, William Tecumseh, 38–39, 45, 302*n*118

Shirz, Carl, 57

Shklar, Judith, 52, 53, 336*n*145

“Show trials” as public vengeance and appeasement, 35–36, 40, 42, 80

Sibley, Henry “Long Trader,” 29, 30, 31, 32

Siebert, Edwin, 152

Sievers, Wolfram, 154

Simon, John, 84, 89, 97

Simpson, Christopher, 345*n*36, 346*n*37, 384*n*55

Simpson, Gordon, 216, 315*n*148, 377*n*93

Sioux, 25–32

Skorzeny, Otto “Scarface,” 221

Slave labor, 128, 187, 189, 283

Slavery, 6, 20

Smith, Bradley F., 13, 89, 90, 318*n*202, 322*n*237, 334*n*129, 335*n*141

Smith, Jacob “Hell Roaring,” 8, 59–60, 63

- Smith, Jean, ed., 167–68, 344<sup>n17</sup>, 346<sup>n43</sup>
- Smith, Walter Bedell, 152
- Snow, Conrad, 217, 218, 255, 267
- Snyder, Louis, 343<sup>n12</sup>
- Sonderkommandos*, 120
- Sovereignty: act-of-state doctrine, 293<sup>n6</sup>, 347<sup>n53</sup>; adamant rejection by IMT prosecution, 115–16; Kennan on, 293<sup>n5</sup>; as keystone of nation-state system, 48; League of Nations as Wilson's attempt to dislodge, 75, 76; and national interest as political ideals, 5, 9, 10; reaffirmed with London Agreement's "crimes against peace," 110, 191; rejection by Bernays Plan, 93; "war guilt" challenges to, 76, 79, 83; was as "beyond good and evil," 113; see also Statehood, European concept of
- Soviet Union: East Germany as proxy, 211; failure to discredit IMT, 131; fear of embarrassing revelations by Nuremberg defendants, 112; Hitler-Stalin Pact, 126–27; Katyn Forest massacre, 103–4, 126, 130; military superiority in Europe, 211; participation at Nuremberg as problematic, 102–4, 107–8; Poland, 102–3; Stalin's attempt to derail West German rearmament, 238; Stalin's purges, 327<sup>n5</sup>; suspicious of American refusal to indict Hirohito, 132; targeted by Einsatzgruppen, 116–17, 177–78, 215, 284–85; targeted in Operation Barbarossa, 119–20, 121, 341<sup>n193</sup>; war crimes trials by, 212; Wehrmacht's "antipartisan" campaigns in, 117–18, 163; see also Cold War; Russia
- Spandau Prison, 16
- Sparnom, Norman, 136
- Speer, Albert, 127–28
- Sprecher, Drexel, 153
- Stahmer, Otto, 121
- Stangl, Franz, 285
- Statehood, European concept of: ended with Treaty of Versailles, 83; shift toward subjective codes of international law, 79; sovereignty as keystone of nation-state system, 48; traditional sovereignty reaffirmed with London Agreement, 110, 191; see also Sovereignty
- Stenger, Franz, 81
- Stimson, Henry: clash with Morgenthau over fate of Germany, 88–99; decrying Japanese invasion of Manchuria, 11, 83–85; favoring peace without vengeance, 90–92; as lawyer-statesman favoring new standards of international law, 10–11, 84; on need for redefining war crimes, 320<sup>n219</sup>; need to make examples of Nazi leaders, 97; on reeducation role of trials, 94; "Stimson Doctrine" of non-recognition of "illegitimate" governments, 11, 84–85
- Stone, Harlan F., 138, 150
- Stone, Julius, 329<sup>n34</sup>
- Storey, Morefield, 65
- Strategic legalism: as abandonment of and affront to Nuremberg, 253–54; Cold War justifications for, 237; cynicism to new heights in Cold War, 286; described, 52; as dominant ideology of American lawyer-statesmen, 52–53; early example in symbolic chastisement of General Jacob Smith, 63, 66–67; light sentences to quell public relations problem, 9; as post-trial nonjudicial "devices,"

- Strategic legalism (cont.)
 9, 230, 275; public trials and post-trial clemency, 67, 82; shifting of policy, 284, 286; under Clinton administration, 287; see also Sentence reductions
- Strauss, Franz Joseph, 234
- Strauss, Walter, 220, 234
- Strong, Josiah, 49
- Stuckart, Wilhelm, 162
- Submarine warfare, war crimes, and reprisals, 72–74, 124–25
- Sullivan, John, 22
- “Superior orders,” “only following orders” defenses, 41, 154, 155, 195, 338*n*173
- Suzkever, Abram, 120
- Taber, John, 174, 206
- Taft, Robert, 150
- Taft, William Howard, 53
- Takayanagi, Kenzo, 133
- Tauber, Kurt, 134, 342–43*n*5, 344*n*11, 368*n*23, 376*n*96
- Taylor, Lawrence, 338*n*165
- Taylor, Patrick, 329*n*38
- Taylor, Telford: on “admirable workmanship of the judgment,” 354*n*139; admitting many legal decisions were political, 326*n*276; on America as powerful but clumsy, 289; appointment to American Nuremberg trials, 148; assessment of American Nuremberg trials, 201; challenging decision to review sentences, 215; coordinating American Nuremberg trials, 14; defending Nuremberg trials, 232–33; on “diplomats of aggression,” 182–83; on Nuremberg as “validating casualties,” 326*n*276; opening for American Nuremberg trials, 159; on paradox of Christianity sanctioning organized violence, 295*n*2; praise for, 344*n*18; on proportional reprisals, 170; reaction to ruthlessness of Einsatzgruppen leader, 117; refusal to cave in to political pressure, 175; regard for Clay, 344*n*17; response to Wennerstrum’s criticism, 172–74; on sentence reductions, 4; statement of goal of American Nuremberg trials, 175–76; trial “package” assembled by New York lawyers, 91; on Wehrmacht’s two rules of war, 341*n*193
- Ter Meer, Fritz, 186
- Terrorism, use of: by Americans against “savages,” 22; authorizations by George Washington and William Sherman, 66; by Native Americans, 27–28
- Teschke, John, 330*n*49
- Thayer, Charles, 238
- Thielenhaus, Marion, 204
- Thirty Years War, 5, 6, 39, 291–92*n*4
- Thomas, Evan, 373*n*56
- Thomas, Sally, 317*n*186
- Thucydides, 287, 419
- Tojo, Hideki, 16, 132, 193
- Tokyo Trial. See International Military Tribunal for Far East (Tokyo Trial)
- Toqueville, Alexis de, 23
- Torture: Soviet acceptance of, for confessions, 111; use by Native Americans, 27–28; use in Philippine conflict, 56
- Total war. See Warfare
- Trachtenberg, Marc, 310*n*104
- Treitschke, Heinrich von, 50
- Troutbeck, John, 102, 327–28*n*6
- Truman, Harry S., 97–98, 221
- Tu quoque* arguments, 102, 124, 184, 187, 195, 327*n*3, 334*n*138

- Turkey, genocide of Armenians, 75, 313–14*n*135
- Turner, Frederick Jackson, 20, 49
- Tusa, Ann & John, 345*n*25; favorable view of trials, 13; on irony of contentious charges, 323*n*244; on Jackson legalism, 325*n*270; on McCloy as hard to resist, 98; Malmedy as turning point in American debate, 324*n*255; on Soviet judge “trailing a coat,” 329*n*28; on Soviet participation, 327*n*4; Soviet judges ordered to dissent, 334*n*138; on Taylor’s realism, 329*n*29; on therapeutic value of trials, 321*n*228
- Ulmen, G. L., 79, 85, 293*n*6
- United Nations War Crimes Commission, 86
- Upton, Robert, 266–67, 268, 271–73
- Van Crevald, Martin, 300*n*104, 311*n*108
- Veesenmayer, Edmund, 163, 164, 199, 285
- Vinson, Fred, 150
- Vonnegut, Kurt, 392*n*16
- Vyshinsky, Andrei, 111
- Wagner, J. Addington, 272
- Wahl, Eduard, 225
- Waller, Littleton, 8, 59, 60, 62–65
- War crimes standards: acts traditionally considered to be war crimes, 322*n*238; American Indians paying price of imperialism, 7–8; bureaucratic battle for control of policy, 96; city bombing as war crime, 101–2, 122, 179; Cold War policy shift in 1949, 210; criminalization of aggression, 11, 70–71, 79, 83–99, 108–9, 283; criminalization of enemies, 5–6, 9–10, 70–71, 312*n*113; critique of proposed expansion of international criminal law, 77; differing from European precedent, 5, 9; failure to prosecute from fear of reprisals, 71; first call for alternative to vengeance, 86; juridical view of war as crime, 83; law replacing vengeance, 5; political justice as high-risk arena of “blasphemy and promise,” 6; question of whether crimes require actual combat, 166; as radical and threatening, 6; relative fairness of Nuremberg trials, 15; role of Malmedy Massacre and domestic politics, 95–96; submarines versus armed merchant ships, 124; summary executions of captured German camp guards, 105–7; victor’s justice, 15, 283; see also Charges; Duality in war crimes/sentence policies
- War crimes trials: British, 89–90, 211; as catharsis, 91; commitment to, with Moscow Declaration, 86–87, 110; East German, 369*n*27; French, 211–12; German “war guilt,” 79, 83, 315*n*155, 342*n*1; Homma case, 135, 138–39; Leipzig trials, 10, 80–83; Malmedy Massacre case, 15, 140–44, 204–5, 207, 223–24, 258–59, 260–65; Moscow Show Trials, 102; public vengeance preventing vigilante retribution, 33, 35; “show trials” and public vengeance, 35–36, 40, 42, 80; Soviet, 212; Soviet in Kharkov, 111; Stimson-Morgenthau clash over fate of Germany, 88–99; traditional, limited, punitive political settlements (vae victis

War crimes trials (cont.)

- “woe to the conquered”), 42; Trial of Henry Wirz, Commandant of Andersonville Prison, 39–42; trial of Kaiser prevented, 79–80; uneven, ad hoc character, 134–35; United Nations War Crimes Commission, 86; U.S. Army, 211; U.S.–Dakota Sioux War Trials, 32–36; U.S. denazification cases under JCS 1067, 146; War/Penalties Commission, post–World War I, 76–77; Yamashita case, 5, 15, 135–38, 336*n*143; see also American Nuremberg trials; International Military Tribunal for Far East (Tokyo Trial); International Military Tribunal (IMT); Nuremberg trials
- Warfare: American reprisals and terrorism against “savages,” 22; civilians as targets, 139–40; “civilized” versus “savage/barbarian” foes, 7, 19, 50; erasing distinction between soldier and civilian, 36, 43, 55, 64, 289; guerrilla style, 54–55; increasingly destructive and unlimited, 37; Nazi atrocities consistent with historical European warfare, 151–52; Nazis’ two sets of rules, 11–12, 121, 341*n*193; objective to demoralize civilian population, 140; in post–Cold War world, war crimes and atrocities again integral to war, 287–89; total war acceptable against pagans or savages, 19; total war, Civil War as preview of, 37, 42–43; total war, emergence of democracy, and criminalization of foes, 5–6, 9–10, 70–71, 79; total war, Native Americans waging, 20–21; total war of World War I, 69–70, 79; see also American war policy; Duality in war crimes/sentence policies
- Washington, George, 22
- Webb, William, 132, 191
- Weich, Maximilian von, 170
- Weinberg, Gerhard, 365*n*2
- Weingartner, James, 95, 324*n*252
- Weizsäcker case at American Nuremberg trials, 15, 147, 160, 179–84, 195–99
- Weizsäcker, Ernst von: continuing debate over guilt or innocence, 204–5; Maguire’s reversal of position on, 207; military trial not possible, 147; release sending powerful message to West Germans, 18; sentence reduction appeals on behalf of, 213–14; service in German Foreign Office, 160
- Weizsäcker, Richard von, 14, 15, 159, 180
- Wennerstrum, Harry, 170, 172–73
- Weschler, Herbert, 94–95
- West, Rebecca, 128
- West Germany: officially established, 210; playing strategic legalist games, 224–25; rejecting legality of Nuremberg trials and guilt of criminals, 211, 213, 226, 227, 228–29, 334*n*140; stepping up attacks on American Nuremberg trials, 224; trying concentration camp staff and Einsatzkommandos, 284–85; see also Anti-Nuremberg efforts of West Germans; Germany
- West Germany’s sovereignty and rearmament for Cold War: by absorption into NATO, 255; altering America’s relationship with, 240–41; amnesty as precondition for, 238; difficulties of recruiting for army, 258; effective

- with Paris Treaties in May, 1955, 257; French refusal to approve EDC, 255; importance of Adenauer's reelection, 241, 247, 249, 251; momentum from Eisenhower and Dulles, 242–43; overnight shift from U.S. Military to State Department, 210; parliament refusing to admit Nazi atrocities, 284; pressure for solution to prisoner problem, 242; rehabilitation of old elites “for reuse,” 241; requests for American President's involvement, 248–50; significance of fate of war criminals, 206–7; Stalin's attempt to derail, 238; through Bonn Agreements, 237, 239, 256; trading war criminals for, 18
- Wheaton, Lloyd, 55, 57–58
- White supremacist underpinnings of Manifest Destiny, 49–50, 57, 61
- White, Theodore, 372*n*53
- Wiehl, Frederick, 231
- Wilkinson, Morton, 33
- Willard, John, 297*n*29
- Willis, James, 76, 78, 311*n*107&111, 312*n*116, 315*n*137, 315–16*n*155
- Wilson, Woodrow, 10, 74, 75, 314*n*137, 315*n*148
- Winthrop, John, 20
- Wirz, Henry, 5, 39–42
- Wisliceny, Dieter, 118
- Woermann, Ernst, 161, 207
- Wolfe, Robert, ed., 334*n*140
- Wolff, Karl, 230
- Wolff, Leon, 309*n*94
- World War I: Allied propaganda exaggerating civilian atrocities, 70–71, 312*n*113; as “battle between Odin and Christ,” 9, 74; criminalization of aggression, 11, 70–71, 79, 83–99; criminalization of German foe, 70–71, 312*n*113; execution of Edith Cavell, 72; German insensitivity to world opinion, 71–72; Germany's massive violation of Belgian neutrality, 70; Kellogg-Briand Pact (Pact of Paris), 83, 84; objective as unconditional surrender and destruction of enemy government, 74; shocking losses on Western Front, 71; submarine warfare, war crimes, and reprisals, 72–74; Treaty of Versailles and “war guilt” clause, 76, 79, 83, 315–16*n*155, 342*n*1; U.S. enters war, 74; War/Penalties Commission, 76–77
- World War II: Allies' city bombing as war crime, 101–2, 122, 179; Atlantic Charter, 104; dispute over punitive peace versus reconciliation, 16–18, 87; fear of propagandistic exaggerations of Nazi atrocities, 91; Hitler-Stalin Pact, 126–27; Laconia affair, 125; medical experiments on humans, 153–54; Nazi concentration camps, 88, 104–7; Nazi Germany as criminal nation, 85–86; Operation Barbarossa, 119–20, 121, 341*n*193; plans for occupation and punishment of Germany, 87; St. James Declaration, 86; Sonderkommandos, 120; submarine warfare, 124–25; United Nations War Crimes Commission, 86; Wehrmacht's “antipartisan” campaigns in Soviet Union, 117–18, 163
- Wounded Knee Massacre, 46
- Wright, Quincy, 13, 83, 301*n*106, 334*n*139

INDEX

- Yamashita, Tomoyuki, trial of, 5, 15,
135–38, 336*n*143; precedent of “command responsibility,” 137,
336*n*143, 337*n*162; U.S. Supreme Court avoiding substantive legal question, 138, 139
- Zorya, General N. D., 127
- Zwiggart, Paul, 140–41