

CONTENTS

Plamen Pantev

Preface 5

Part 1: Security Sector Reform in South East Europe and the Changing Nature of Global Security

Brad Freden

The Changing Nature of Global Security and Ensuing Challenges to National Armed Forces in Southeast Europe 9

Vassil Prodanov

Changing Nature of Global Security and Armed Forces Transformation 15

Zvonimir Mahečić

Conceptualising Defence Doctrine and Structure Reforms in South East Europe – The Quest for Standards and Orientation 27

Alain Faupin

Defence Concepts and Structure Reforms in South East Europe 33

Bogdan Kolarov

Economy – The New Security Perspective for Southeast Europe 45

Part 2: Experience in Reform by NATO Members

Nikola Yakov

The Strategic Defence Review Process as a Tool for Conceptualizing Defence Doctrine and Structure Reforms in the Bulgarian Military – The Bulgarian Experience and Lessons Learned 55

Yantsislav Yanakiev Transforming the Bulgarian Armed Forces and the Challenges of Diversity on the Context of Modern Human Resources Management Policy Development	63
Dragoslav Popa Civilian Control over the Military in Romania and Bulgaria (1989-2004)	79
Linda M. Royer Hungary's Long Journey to NATO and Beyond	127
Ayse Nilufer Nari Aligning Civil-Military Relations in Turkey: Transperancy Building in Defence Sector and the EU Reforms	157
Part 3: The Challenges for Western Balkan Countries
Pjer Šimunović Croatia on its Way to the Alliance	189
Srdjan Gligorijević The Army Reform in Serbia and Montenegro: Facts and Pitfalls	193
Bernd Papenkort Defence Reform in Bosnia and Herzegovina – a long Way towards Partnership for Peace	205
Petar Atanasov Defence Reform and Public Opinion in Macedonia	217
Predrag Jureković Conclusions	229