

The Last Page

A Mystic and a Stock Price

Meet on a bubble of Contested brightness
Blowing, blown, popped
Or cool-lipped speech
Impounding the future
In unity's tight spike and
Luster, one transparent
As the other. They stretch
Their hands and twitch the Desert sky.

Laura Coyne*

* This poem first appeared in PN Review.